Every entrant must be under the age of 40 years old on the closing date for submission of projects.

1.2. Composition of the Teams

There is no limit to the number of participants per team. Multidisciplinary teams are strongly recommended with regards to the sites' issues.

A registered team can modify its composition on the European website until the closing date for submissions. No further change shall be accepted after this date.

Each team member (associate and contributor) shall be registered as such on the European website before the closing date for submissions.

One team can submit a project on different sites in different countries with participation limited to one site in the same country and one person can be part of different teams provided that the projects are not submitted in the same country.

Associates

Associates are considered to be authors of the project and are credited as such in all national and European publications and exhibitions. Architects must have graduated with a degree from a university specified within the EU Directive 2005/36/2021, or with an equivalent degree from a university within the natural borders of Europe, recognized by the professional architects' organizations in the country of the competition site. Other professionals must have an applicable European university degree, regardless of nationality. The compulsory requirement is to hold such a degree.

Membership in a European professional body is optional, except for associates without a European degree.

Students accepted as associates must have a bachelor degree or equivalent in architecture or related disciplines from a university according to the same criteria as the other associates.

Contributors

Teams may include contributors who may be qualified or not but none of them shall be considered as an author of the project. The contributors must also be under the age of 40 years old on the closing date for submission of entries.

Team Representative

Each team names one Team Representative among the associates. The Team Representative is the sole contact with the national and European secretariats during the whole competition. Furthermore, every communication shall be done with one email address, which shall remain the same during the whole session (until December 31st, 2024).

The Team Representative must be an architect or must have the architect status under the laws of a European country. In specific cases and when mentioned on the site definition (see Synthetic Site File), the Team Representative can be an architecture, urban or landscape professional (architect, landscaper, urban planner, architect-engineer). In this case the team shall necessarily include at least one architect among the associates.

1.3. Non-Eligibility

The results announcement is accompanied with results ceremonies and presentations and/or workshops creating a first contact between the winning teams and the site representatives.

- at the European scale

A European event called INTER-SESSIONS FORUM is the link between a finishing session and the beginning of the new one. This forum gathers the winning teams and site representatives of the finishing session and the site representatives of the new one around the results and first implementation steps of the projects awarded during the last session.

Next Inter-Sessions Forum –presenting the European 17 results and the sites proposed for European 18– should be organized in November/December 2024.

A 500€ compensation (all tax included) is granted by the National Secretaries to each winning team (winners and runner-up) participating to the Forum to cover the journey and accommodation expenses.

6.2. Publications

The competition results can be the opportunity for publications in every organizing or associate country.

The European secretariat publishes a catalogue with the European results along with expert analyses. This catalogue is available either for free consultation (numeric version) or for sale (printed version) on the European website. One printed exemplar is given for free to each winning teams (winner, runner-up, special mention).

1. JURY PROCEDURES

1.1. Technical Commission

Each country sets up a Technical Commission, which does not judge but examines all the projects submitted in the country to prepare the work for the jury.

1.2. Juries

1.2.1. Composition

Each country sets up a jury of experts related to the theme of the competition, whose members are appointed by the national structure and approved by the European European Association.

The jury considers all the projects that comply with the competition rules. Its judgement is final. In the event of non-compliance with the rules, it has discretion whether or not to disqualify the entrant.

According to the country, the jury consists of 7 (or 9) independent members with no relation to a site proposed to the competition and is constituted as follows:

- 2 representatives of the urban order –or 3 in case of a 9-member jury;
- 4 representatives of the architectural and urban design (architects, landscapers, urban planners) –or 5 in case of a 9-member jury–, among which at least 2 architects;
- 1 public figure.

At least 2 out of the 7 members must be foreigners –at least 3 in the case of a 9-member jury. The national structure also appoints at least 2 substitute jury members, representatives of the architectural and urban design. The jury members' names are listed for each country on the Jurys section of the European website.

Jury members may consult city and site representatives, but on no account may the latter have voting rights for the final selection of winners, runners-up and special mentions.

1.2.2. Working Methods and Evaluation Criteria

The jury's decisions are final in compliance with the European rules. Before beginning to work the jury receives recommendations from the European Association.

The jury meets in 2 separate sessions at different times:

First round

At the beginning of this session, the jury appoints one of its members as chairman and agrees on its working method. Sites representatives can be integrated to this jury level and, in some countries, may participate to the selection of the shortlisted projects.

The jury then studies the projects that do not comply with the rules and decide whether or not to disqualify them.

It later on assesses the projects on their conceptual content and the degree of innovation according to the European 17 topic and shortlists around 25% maximum of the submitted projects or at least 3.

Second round

During the second round, the jury examines –on its own and independently– the shortlisted projects and points out the winners, runners-up and special mentions. The jury could assess the projects on basis of:

- The relevance of the answers given by the project to the questions raised by the theme “Living Cities”;
- The ability of the project to connect territory scale (urban, suburban, rural...) to proximity scale of the places, by crossing landscape, urban and architecture;
- The relationship between the ideas of the project and the site’s context;
- The care with which natural local resources, climatic changes and risks and inhabited milieu are taken into account;
- the relevance of the program proposed on the mixity, inclusivity and evolutions of uses, in regard to the brief demands;
- The potentiality of integration into a complex urban process including actors.

The jury finally writes a report giving the reasons for the choice made in relation to the requirements of the competition and the concerned sites.

Each country budget includes the equivalent of a Winner’s and a Runner-Up’s prize per site. Still, each entry is judged on its sole merits. The jury can therefore distribute prizes among entries up to its will or decide not to award all the prizes. In this case, the reasons shall be made public.

If disqualified after validation of participation a prize-winning project may be replaced by another project if the quality is satisfactory.

1.2.3. Disclosure of Names

The projects assessed by the experts and juries are anonymous.

Once the decision of results is taken, the jury reveals the names of the winners, runners-up and special mentions. This operation is done through the European database, which automatically links the anonymity codes of the projects and composition of teams.

1.2.4. Results Announcement

After disclosure of the names of the winning teams and following any adjustments to rankings that may prove necessary, the national secretariats ratify the decisions and disclose the names.

The European secretariat publishes the complete list of results online on December 4th, 2023.

1.3. European Comparative Analysis

1.3.1. European Comparative Analysis Committee

Between the two jury meetings the members of the European Scientific Committee meet to familiarize with the anonymous projects shortlisted by the different national juries. They compare the projects and classify them by theme on basis of the problems raised by the site categories and the proposed ideas. Under no circumstances does the European comparative analysis committee express a judgement – it simply classifies the projects from a purely thematic and comparative perspective.

1.3.2. Forum of Cities and juries

Between the two national jury sessions a Forum gathers the national juries and site representatives to discuss the conclusions of the European comparative analysis committee. It aims at ensuring that the different experts participating in the evaluation process share a common culture. Projects remain anonymous throughout the procedures and are only identified by their anonymity code.

2. IMPLEMENTATIONS

2.1. Activities to Promote Implementations

The European Association and the national structures undertake to do what is required to encourage cities and/or developers¹ that have provided sites for the competition to engage the prize-winning teams for the operational phase.

The national structures –in consultation with the partners of the cities and the clients– undertake to organize a first meeting with the prize-winning teams within 90 days after the official announcement of results. This meeting may take various forms and is the starting point for the site representatives to initiate implementation processes with the prize-winning teams on the ideas developed in the projects.

The operational follow-up consists of a series of events or stages: preliminary studies, workshops, urban studies, operational studies, construction and within a contractual agreement. They can involve one or several teams among the winning teams (winners, runners-up, honorable mentions. If necessary, they may be transferred on another site than the competition site as long as the ideas of the prize-winning projects are maintained.

The prize-winning teams must comply for the implementation's phase with the professional rules that apply in the country where they are engaged to work. After the competition, the prize-winning teams must appoint one of their architect members as a representative, who is the sole spokesperson for the team with the municipalities and/or developers.

A summary of the countries' legislations on the rules of professional practice is available in the Contact section of the European website (Complete Card).

2.2. Websites

The European national structures present the implementations at the national level.

The European secretariat presents completed or ongoing implementation processes on the European website (Exploration section).

2.3. Implementation Books and Booklets

The European secretariat coordinates European publications on implementations, showing winning and runner-up projects from previous sessions that were implemented or are still in progress.

EUROPAN 17 PARTICIPATING NATIONAL STRUCTURES COMMITMENT: RULES AND CHARTER

SUMMARY

1. Definition
2. Objectives
3. European Organizers and Associates
 - 3.1. Organizers
 - 3.2. Cities and Urban Developers, Contracting Authorities
4. List of the European 17 Structures
5. List of the 51 European 17 Sites
6. European 17, Charter of the 12 Participating Countries

1. DEFINITION

European is a European federation of national organizations, which runs architectural competitions leading to building or design projects, launched simultaneously by several countries on a given theme and with common objectives. The present rules apply to all the competitions in the European session.

2. OBJECTIVES

In a spirit of open dialogue and cooperation within a broader Europe, European aims at generating greater understanding of and reflection on housing and urban planning issues and at promoting exchanges on this subject among the different European countries.

The goal of European is to help:

- Europe's young architecture, urban and landscape design professionals develop and promote their ideas in Europe and further afield;
- European cities and developers proposing sites to find innovative architectural, landscape and urban solutions to the problems they face.

The function of European in participating countries is therefore to promote urban studies and experimental projects in the urban-landscape-architectural field and to encourage the implementation of innovative processes.

3. EUROPAN ORGANIZERS AND ASSOCIATES

3.1. Organizers

National Organizing Structures

In each country, the competition is organized by a national structure made up of authorities, municipalities, public and private developers, architects, landscapers, urban planners and the organizations which represent them, and cultural figures.

This national structure has the legal status of a non-profit association. Its role is to oversee its national competition and to promote the ideas of the prize-winning teams with a view to their practical implementation.

Each national structure has a national secretariat.

Organizing Countries

The national structure of each organizing country that signed the Charter undertakes to organize an architectural competition on a theme, rules and calendar common to the organizing countries.

Associate Countries

The national structures of each new associate country that signed the Charter undertake to propose at least one site. They enter into a partnership with one organizing country or with different associate countries for the judging process and participate in the competition on a theme, rules and calendar common to the organizing countries.

European Association

A EUROPEAN EUROPAN ASSOCIATION acts as a unifying structure for the different national structures.

Its GENERAL ASSEMBLY is made up of 4 representatives from each national structure of the organizing countries, representatives of the associate countries, and honorary members. Its COUNCIL is made up of one representative from each organizing country.

A SCIENTIFIC COUNCIL of European experts is responsible for formulating proposals on the themes, conducting a comparative analysis of the sites and results, moderating the Forum debates and contributing to strategic ideas on urban development in European towns and cities.

The Association has a GENERAL SECRETARIAT, which organizes the work of the Association and coordinates the activities of the national secretariats, the Council and the General Assembly. The European secretariat, in consultation with the national secretariats, is responsible for organizing European events and competitions. It ensures compliance with procedures.

The PRESIDENT of the Association is Manuel Blanco Lage, Architect, Director of the architecture school of Madrid ETSAM and exhibitions' curator.

3.2. Cities and Urban Developers, Contracting Authorities

Europan's theme involves a relationship and close cooperation with cities, urban developers and European stakeholders in the organizing countries. These cities, developers and contracting authorities are approached by each national structure to propose urban sites that meet the European competition requirements.

For these European partners, the collaboration provides an opportunity to use the prize-winning projects and the ensuing debate as a basis for an open reflection that is essential to the future development of their sites. It also permits them to enlist the services of the prize-winning teams, whatever their nationality, in the planning and implementation of the urban and/or architectural studies and projects that they require.
